This fee structure features a consistent accreditation fee that is due annually throughout the life of a program's accreditation to better assist programs in long-term budgeting for accreditation costs.

If this fee structure applies to your program, you will pay the same Annual Accreditation Fee each year and submit an Annual Report form. Although programs will go through an accreditation renewal process at the end of their 5-year accreditation term, they will not be assessed separate renewal or reaccreditation fees in addition to the Annual Accreditation Fee.

Annual Report fees and Renewal fees only apply to NAEYC-Accredited programs with a Valid Until¹ date between October 2011 and December 2015. Read more.

¹ A program's Valid Until Date is listed on its NAEYC Accreditation Certificate and is published online within the NAEYC Accredited Program Search. A program receives a Valid Until Date for each five-year accreditation term upon earning initial accreditation, reaccreditation, or renewal.
