

Teaching Young Children* Editorial Policies

A Forum for Discussion

Through our publications program and our conferences, NAEYC provides a forum for discussion of major issues and ideas in the field of early childhood education. We hope to provoke thought, to promote professional growth, and to enable NAEYC members and other early childhood educators to engage in dialogue around critical issues in the field and see a wide variety of the products, programs and services that are available, such as:

- curriculum for early childhood programs
- equipment and furnishings
- conferences and training opportunities
- colleges and universities

This forum enables NAEYC members, conference participants, and others to determine if any of these products, programs or services is a good fit for their program or school, or for their ongoing professional development.

Ideas and views expressed or highlighted in articles, advertising, publications, conference presentations, exhibits or other opportunities are not necessarily those of the Association. Acceptance of advertising does not represent NAEYC's endorsement of any product or service.

Other Terms and Conditions

NAEYC as publisher of Teaching Young Children reserves the right to reject advertising it views as inappropriate for publication, including but not limited to materials that may be offensive to our readers, inaccurate or deceptive in content, or in violation of copyright or other laws. NAEYC assumes no responsibility for the content of advertising, including typographical errors, and makes no endorsement direct or implied of the products or services advertised. Advertisements that inaccurately state or imply NAEYC endorsement will be rejected.

Positioning of advertisements, except for agreed-upon covers or spreads, is at the sole discretion of NAEYC. Conditions and requests with respect to positioning, whether made in writing or otherwise by the advertiser or agent, are not binding upon NAEYC. NAEYC seeks to intersperse space ads among the editorial content of Teaching Young Children wherever possible and considers but does not guarantee placement requests such as "left page," "right page," "far to the front," etc.

NAEYC does not guarantee specific circulation or readership of Teaching Young Children. The most recent data published on circulation will appear in the U.S. Postal Service Statement of Ownership in the December issue.