

Table of Contents

1. Introduction to the NAEYC Early Childhood Program Standards
2. What Do You Need to Know about the Health Standard?
 - Why Is Health Important to Quality?
 - What Is the Standard for Health?
 - What Are the Accreditation Criteria for the Health Standard?
 - What Are the Connections between the Health Standard and the Other Standards?
3. What Does This Standard Mean for Your Program?
 - What Will Help You Create Shared Understandings about Quality Health Practices?
 - How Are Children of Different Ages Supported by Our Health Practices?
 - How Is Sensitivity to Diversity in Culture and Language Demonstrated in Your Program's Health Practices?
 - How Are Your Program's Health Practices Responsive to Children's Special Needs?
 - What Topic Areas or Criteria in the Health Standard Are Important to Discuss?
 - Are You Open to Changing How You Develop and Implement Your Health Practices?
4. What Does Your Program Need to Do for Self-Study?
 - Create Shared Understandings
 - Gather Evidence
 - Determine Strengths and Weaknesses
 - Develop Program Improvement Plans
 - Make Improvements and Document Your Efforts
 - Evaluate Results and Plan Next Steps
5. Resources
 - Observation Form
 - Web Sites
 - Literature Review
 - Bibliography