The work of early childhood educators is valuable, complex—and chronically underfunded.

Fifty percent of early childhood educators are worried about their own family’s economic well-being.

Their compensation grew by 1% between 1997 and 2013.

They earn 40% less than workers with similar qualifications.

It’s time for change. Help make it happen.

#PowerToTheProfession

Make your voice heard today.

www.naeyc.org/profession

2 Economic Policy Institute